Eurowind Energy processes personal data about you if you are a potential or actual contracting party to an agreement with Eurowind Energy. You can also be an employee, representative, or other contact person acting on behalf of such contracting party. Your personal data will be processed in accordance with the following:

Categories of personal data	Purpose	Legal basis	Retrieval and retention period	Recipients
Generally, Eurowind Energy only processes non-sensitive personal data about you. This can for instance be your name, phone number, address, or e-mail address. It can also be fiscal or financial information such as bank account numbers. In certain cases, we may have to process information regarding your national identification number in order to fulfill contractual and legal obligations and to secure our rights in the land registry.	To fulfill our contractual obligations towards you for the full duration of you constituting a contracting party in an agreement with Eurowind Energy as pertains to the planning, installation, and/or operation of energy plants; To comply with any applicable legislation; and/or To keep your personal data for a period of time after the end of an agreement for documentation purposes.	The legal basis for the processing is the agreement between you and Eurowind Energy, which implies the processing of your personal data, cf. EU's General Data Protection Regulation (hereinafter "GDPR"), article 6, paragraph 1, point (b). Prior to entering into an agreement, the processing of your personal data is necessary for Eurowind Energy to pursue a legitimate interest, for example, to identify prospective landowners for a potential energy project, cf. GDPR, article 6, paragraph 1, point (f). Eurowind Energy processes your national identification number, in accordance with applicable national legislation. Furthermore, Eurowind Energy discloses your national identification in cases where a public authority requests such a disclosure in accordance with applicable national legislation.	In cases where Eurowind Energy has not obtained your personal data directly from yourself, we have retrieved your personal data from elsewhere, such as publicly available sources. We retain your personal data for as long as it is necessary for Eurowind Energy to process it. This will always rely on a specific assessment of the data itself in compliance with applicable legislation. More specifically, we will take into account 1) any contractual obligations; 2) the nature of the processed personal data; 3) the actual and expected relationship between yourself and Eurowind Energy; 4) the status of any projects in which you are a potential or contracting party; and 5) the legal periods of limitation which oblige Eurowind Energy to store and delete certain personal data within determined timeframes.	Generally, your personal data is not shared with any third party. However, Eurowind Energy contracts data processors to process personal data according to instructions from Eurowind Energy, and for which data processing agreements have been entered into. Eurowind Energy's service may also entail that part of the personal data about you will be reported to national public authorities or to private operators such as insurance companies, lawyers, banks, and accountants. Disclosure of your personal data will always be handled in accordance with applicable data protection legislation.

For further information, please read Eurowind Energy's Privacy Policy on the company website.

Eurowind Energy processes personal data about you if you submitted an opposition or a hearing statement regarding a project which involves and/or has been taken over by Eurowind Energy. Your personal data will be processed in accordance with the following:

Categories of personal data	Purpose	Legal basis	Retrieval, retention period, and rights	Recipients
Unless inadvertently supplied by yourself, the data subject, Eurowind Energy only processes non-sensitive personal data about you. This can for instance be your name, phone number, address, or e-mail address. It may also be other information that you have chosen to submit as part of your opposition or hearing statement.	To fulfil a legitimate interest regarding Eurowind Energy's handling of opposition and hearing statements. By extension, the purpose of the processing is to identify the individuals who have submitted a hearing statement or an opposition as well as evaluate such statements or oppositions.	The legal basis for the processing is Eurowind Energy's legitimate interest, cf. GDPR, article 6, paragraph 1, point (f). Eurowind Energy's legitimate interest is to know and respond to any hearing statement and any oppositions which might have been submitted at the public hearing regarding a project which involves Eurowind Energy.	In cases where Eurowind Energy has not obtained your personal data directly from yourself, we have retrieved your personal data from publicly available sources such as local municipality websites. We retain your personal data for a period of up to 1 year after the expiry of any appeal options associated with the project in question. We will not retain your personal data for longer than Eurowind Energy deems it necessary. This will always rely on a specific assessment of the data in compliance with applicable legislation. More specifically, we will take into account 1) the nature of the processed personal data; 2) the status of the project to which an opposition or hearing statement was submitted; 3) the necessity of the data for operational or development purposes; and 4) the legal periods of limitation which oblige Eurowind Energy to store and delete certain personal data within determined timeframes. The assessment is therefore an individual matter based on e.g. when the project hearings ended, when any opportunity to appeal has expired, or when the project has been approved or completed.	Generally, your personal data is not shared with any third party. However, Eurowind Energy may share your personal data with external project consultants. Your personal data is shared in confidence, unless the information is publicly available. However, Eurowind Energy contracts data processors to process personal data according to instructions from Eurowind Energy, and for which data processing agreements have been entered into. Disclosure of your personal data will always be handled in accordance with applicable data protection legislation.

For further information, please read Eurowind Energy's Privacy Policy on the company website.

Eurowind processes personal data about you if you are an investor in a company managed entirely or partly by Eurowind Energy. Your personal data will be processed in accordance with the following:

Categories of personal data	Purpose	Legal basis	Retrieval and retention period	Recipients
Generally, Eurowind Energy only processes non-sensitive personal data about you. This can for instance be your name, address, phone number, or your e- mail address. It can also be fiscal or financial information such as bank account numbers and information regarding financing and/or investment conditions. In certain cases, we may have to process information regarding your national identification number in order to fulfill contractual and legal obligations.	To fulfil our contractual obligations towards you as an investor in a company managed by Eurowind Energy. To comply with relevant legislation; and/or To ensure compliant documentation practices by retaining your personal data for a period of time after the end of an agreement.	The legal basis for the processing is Eurowind Energy's performance of a contract with a party in which you are an associated investor – such as an Asset Management Agreement or Technical and Commercial Management Agreement – or Eurowind Energy's adherence to any requests prior to entering into such a contract, cf. GDPR, article 6, paragraph 1, point (b). Adherence to an Asset Management Agreement or Technical and Commercial Management Agreement may involve processing your national identification number. Any such processing will occur in accordance with applicable national legislation.	In cases where Eurowind Energy has not obtained your personal data directly from yourself, we may have retrieved your personal data from sources such as publicly available information, former administrators of portfolios acquired by Eurowind Energy, or from other investors and/or their representatives. We retain your personal data for as long as it is necessary for Eurowind Energy to process it. This will always rely on a specific assessment of the data in compliance with applicable legislation. More specifically, we will take into account 1) any contractual obligations; 2) the nature of the processed personal data; 3) the actual and expected relationship between yourself and Eurowind Energy; 4) the status of any projects in which you are invested; and 5) the legal periods of limitation which oblige Eurowind Energy to store and delete certain personal data within determined timeframes, such as tax and audit documentation.	Generally, your personal data is not shared with any third party. However, Eurowind Energy contracts data processors to process personal data according to instructions from Eurowind Energy, and for which data processing agreements have been entered into. Eurowind Energy's service may also entail that part of the personal data about you will be reported to national public authorities or to private operators such as insurance companies, lawyers, banks, and accountants. Disclosure of your personal data will always be handled in accordance with applicable data protection legislation, including national legislation concerning the transmission of your national identification number.

For further information, please read Eurowind Energy's Privacy Policy on the company website.

Eurowind Energy processes personal data about you, if you are a recipient of our news alert services and digital marketing outreach. Your personal data will be processed in accordance with the following:

Categories of personal data	Purpose	Legal basis	Retention period	Recipients
Generally, Eurowind Energy only processes non-sensitive personal data about you. This can for instance be your name, address, phone number, or your e-mail address.	To send the requested news alerts. To facilitate contact between Eurowind Energy and potential stakeholders.	The legal basis for the processing is your consent, cf. GDPR, article 6, paragraph 1, point (a).	Eurowind Energy retains your personal data for as long as you wish to receive our news alerts or remain in touch with Eurowind Energy. Your personal data will be deleted if you withdraw your consent by unsubscribing from the news alert services. Your personal data will also be deleted if you withdraw your consent to our processing of personal data as received through a digital contact form.	Generally, your personal data is not shared with any third party. However, Eurowind Energy contracts data processors to process personal data according to instructions from Eurowind Energy, and for which data processing agreements have been entered into. Disclosure of your personal data will always be handled in accordance with applicable data protection legislation.

For further information, please read Eurowind Energy’s Privacy Policy on the company website.

Eurowind Energy processes information about you as a job seeker/applicant. Your personal data will be processed in accordance with the following:

Categories of personal data	Purpose	Legal basis	Retention period/rights	Recipients
Unless inadvertently supplied by the applicant, Eurowind Energy processes non-sensitive personal data and confidential personal data about you. This can for instance be your name, phone number, address, and e-mail address. It can also be: - Application/CV and other documentation from the recruitment process - Other information that you have chosen to submit along with your application - Retrieval of references (as per agreement between you and Eurowind Energy's hiring manager) - Results from personality tests - Publicly available information on social media Moreover, minutes of recruitment-related meetings and the like, which may feature your personal data.	To properly process your job application or provide relevant information to you as a job seeker.	The legal basis for processing your personal data when you subscribe to Eurowind Energy's job agent is your consent, cf. GDPR, article 6, paragraph 1, point (a). The legal basis for processing your personal data when you submit a job application is your consent, cf. GDPR, article 6, paragraph 1, point (a). For other processing activities of your personal data in relation to the fulfillment of available positions, the legal basis for such processing is Eurowind Energy's legitimate interest in having the advertised job filled, cf. GDPR, article 6, paragraph 1, point (f).	Eurowind Energy retains your personal data for up to 6 months after subscribing to the job agent or submitting a job application. For other processing activities, Eurowind Energy retains your personal data for up to 6 months after receiving it.	Generally, your personal data is not shared with any third party. However, Eurowind Energy contracts data processors to process personal data according to instructions from Eurowind Energy, and for which data processing agreements have been entered into. Eurowind Energy processes your personal data confidentially and will only share such data with certain employees involved in the specific recruitment process for the advertised job opening. Disclosure of your personal data will always be handled in accordance with applicable data protection legislation.

For further information, please read Eurowind Energy's Privacy Policy on the company website.

Eurowind Energy processes information about you as a board member. Your personal data will be processed in accordance with the following:

Categories of personal data	Purpose	Legal basis	Retention period	Recipients
Eurowind Energy processes non-sensitive and confidential personal data about you. This can for instance be your name, national identification number, phone number, address, and e-mail address. It can also be: - Date of entry on the board - Bank details - Car registration number - Portrait picture - Signature on reimbursement notes and minutes of meetings - CV, if any, from recruitment to the board - Fiscal information Moreover, minutes of meetings from board meetings etc. may include input and data that relates to your person.	To fulfill our legal obligations and respect your rights in accordance with relevant legislation and the board member contract between yourself and Eurowind Energy. Examples in this regard include: - Maintenance of a contact list of board members - Distribution of material from board meetings and seminars - Provision of regular briefings to board members - Information on Eurowind Energy's website - Publication of material featuring board members - Settlement of fees, subsistence allowance as well as reimbursements, including the provision of tax information to national authorities - Documentation of participation in meetings - Signed approval of minutes	The legal basis for processing your personal data is the performance of the board member contract between Eurowind Energy and yourself, cf. GDPR, article 6, paragraph 1, point (b).	Eurowind Energy retains your personal data throughout the duration of the board member contract and up to 5 years after termination or expiry of the board member contract. Eurowind Energy may retain your personal data for longer than 5 years if necessary and required by specific circumstances, or to comply with applicable legislation.	Wherever possible, your personal data is not shared with any third party. However, under special circumstances Eurowind Energy may need to share your personal data with third parties. Eurowind Energy contracts data processors to process personal data according to instructions from Eurowind Energy, and for which data processing agreements have been entered into. Eurowind Energy will also share your personal data wherever legally obliged or prudent to do so. This may include, but is not limited to, fiscal and tax information as well as statutory statistics etc. Board membership at Eurowind Energy may also entail that part of the personal data about you will be reported to national public authorities or to private operators such as insurance companies, lawyers, banks, and accountants. Disclosure of your personal data will always be handled in accordance with applicable data protection legislation.

For further information, please read Eurowind Energy's Privacy Policy on the company website.

Eurowind Energy processes information about you as a visitor at Eurowind Energy's locations or an individual otherwise captured by CCTV surveillance at one or more of Eurowind Energy's locations. Your personal data will be processed in accordance with the following:

Categories of personal data	Purpose	Legal basis	Retention period	Recipients
Generally, Eurowind Energy only processes non-sensitive personal data about you. This can for instance be your name, phone number, e-mail address, user ID, or surveillance footage in which you appear at Eurowind Energy's locations. Further information may be your professional title and/or employer.	To ensure security at Eurowind Energy's locations and to do so in compliance with applicable legislation.	The legal basis for processing your personal data when monitoring our locations with CCTV and access logs is our legal obligation to do so, cf. GDPR, article 6, paragraph 1, point (c). The legal basis for otherwise processing your personal data as a visitor or individual at Eurowind Energy's locations is our legitimate interest in maintaining adequate levels of security, cf. GDPR, article 6, paragraph 1, point (f).	Eurowind Energy retains any personal data retrieved from CCTV for a period of approximately 80 days following the recording of the footage. The footage is automatically overwritten. Personal data processed in connection with any access systems, including digital access systems, will be retained for as long as it is necessary for Eurowind Energy to process such data. This relies on a specific assessment of Eurowind Energy's functional and security needs as well as any legal obligations. More specifically, we will take into account 1) Eurowind Energy's security and access-control requirements; 2) the nature of the processed personal data; 3) the status of any security-related incidents or investigations; 4) the legal periods of limitation which oblige Eurowind Energy to store and delete certain personal data within determined timeframes, including any obligations to document entry to or activity at Eurowind Energy's locations; and 5) whether the basis for any potential access authorisations remain valid.	Generally, your personal data is not shared with any third party. However, Eurowind Energy contracts data processors to process personal data according to instructions from Eurowind Energy, and for which data processing agreements have been entered into. Disclosure of your personal data will always be handled in accordance with applicable data protection legislation.

For further information, please read Eurowind Energy's Privacy Policy on the company website.

This Processing Overview was most recently updated: December 2025.